

Have you experienced specialist advice through your GP?

We want to hear from you

Sometimes your GP or nurse may seek advice from a hospital specialist instead of referring you straight away. This is called 'Advice and Guidance' – and it helps make sure you get the right care, in the right place, at the right time.

Tell us about your experience:

- Was it helpful?
- Was anything unclear or frustrating?
- What could be better?

Your feedback will help improve how GP practices and hospital specialists work together across Lincolnshire.
